

Monroe County Technical Center

Making Connections – Taking Charge

Biomedical Science - PLTW

- investigate the roles of biomedical professionals as they study the concepts of human medicine, physiology, genetics, microbiology, and public health
- complete hands-on labs and learning opportunities including organ dissection, study of diseases and molecular structure, and creation of human body organ system models
- take the AP Biology exam for college credit, earn a high school science credit
- experience partnerships with DEBBIE CURRY, JD, Program Director for Rural Outreach and Development Robert C. Byrd Center for Rural Health, Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine and with Upward Bound at Concord University

EMBEDDED CREDIT!

Completers of this program earn a high school Science credit.

All student completers of this program will graduate with a solid resume and portfolio ready for use. They will also have hours of direct, hands-on classroom experience in a Simulated Workplace environment.

Monroe County
Technical Center
74 James Monroe Drive
Lindside, WV 24951
(304) 753-9971
<http://monroe-k12.wvnet.edu/mctc/>